

Beginner Harp Camp

July 5 – 9, 2010

10 am – noon

Williamsburg Sentara Hospital Campus

Cost--$50

Ages 8 and older

This camp is appropriate for children who have never played the harp or who are in our Harp I Class. It is designed to give children an introduction to the instrument and prepare them for enrolling in our beginning harp program in the fall if they are interested.

To enroll, please go to www.williamsburgyouthharp.org and download our application form. Print the form and mail it with your payment. Questions before you decide? Email williamsburgyouthharp@cox.net.

About the Williamsburg Youth Harp Society: The Williamsburg Youth Harp Society is a 501(c)3 organization dedicated to providing children in the Williamsburg, Virginia area with an enriched educational experience through study and performance on the harp. We offer group classes, private instruction and the opportunity to participate in performing ensembles.

The Williamsburg community has enjoyed the music of youth harpists since 1996, when Cynthia Crum, a harpist and music teacher at Rawls Byrd Elementary School, began teaching students on a few rented harps.

Although based in public schools for more than a decade, the Rawls Byrd-Berkeley harp program was privately funded from its inception. In 2006 parents voted to end the school-based program and to form the Williamsburg Youth Harp Society, a non-profit organization dedicated to the success of the new private program.

Today our programs are located at Sentara Williamsburg Regional Medical Center, thanks to the generosity of Sentara. Our programs are available to all children ages 8-18 in the area.
